

Cornelio Gran Duque Reserva 2019

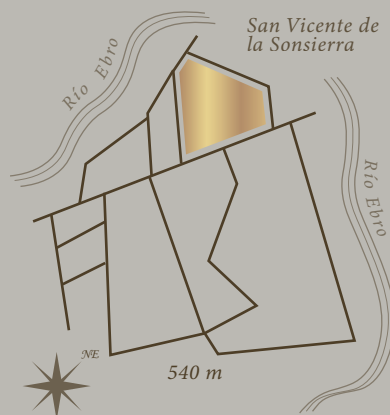

VINTAGE
2019

VARIETY
Tempranillo

ALCOHOL
14,5% vol.

AGING
26 months in new barrels
and 10 months in bottles.

PRODUCTION
2.000 bottles

Let the world stop while this "masterpiece" lasts.

A wine made from only the finest Tempranillo bunches from bush-ripened vines from our seven best microterroirs, aged 50 to 70 years in Rioja Alta, in the most important towns such as San Vicente, San Asensio Ábalos, and Briones, at over 500 meters above sea level, where the influence of the Atlantic climate is captured and retained.

Prolonged alcoholic fermentation at low temperature in steel tanks using indigenous yeasts, malolactic fermentation in new West Virginia Appalaches American oak barrels, followed by a meticulous 26-month aging in new West Virginia Appalaches American oak barrels, and finally, aging in the bottle for a minimum of 10 months before being released to the market.

TASTING NOTES

Medium cherry red color with a ruby rim.

Vibrant intensity and depth of aromas of black and red fruit. These initial sensations are harmonized with the extraordinary and complex background of resinous balsamic notes, delicate menthol, and blond tobacco.

On the palate, the structure is well-armed by firm, well-polished tannins extracted from that first use in our West Virginia Appalaches barrels..

SOME OF OUR AWARDS

2023:
Decanter. Silver, 93 points. Vintage 2018

2022:
Decanter. Silver, 94 points. Vintage 2016
Mundus Vini. GOLD. Vintage 2016
Concurso Internacional de Bruselas. Grand Gold. A. 2016

2021:
Decanter. Silver, 90 points. Vintage 2016